

Our Hirosho School Life!

What happened in October?

Speech Contest

The speech contest was finally held on October fifth. Hirosho had three students participate in the recitation portion of the contest and three students participate in the speech writing contest. For recitation we sent one student from each grade, but for the speech writing, we had only third year students volunteer. In the speech recitation, our first grade participant managed to snag the third place out of all the contestants in the recitation portion. Everybody did great with their speeches. All of the hard work really showed. You guys did amazing!

Mid-Terms

The middle of October brought mid-terms for the students. The students studied hard to impress their teachers and parents with how much they learned during the first half of the term. Once the mid-terms were over, the students had to hop right back into class and begin learning new materials.

Thanksgiving

In America November has the major holiday of Thanksgiving. It is always the 4th Wednesday of November. We use it as a day to show everything and everybody for which we are thankful. We primarily do this by spending the whole day with our families and cook large dinners together.

For Thanksgiving my family usually makes the following foods: turkey, gravy, mashed potatoes, salad, dinner rolls, macaroni and cheese, broccoli cheese casserole, candied yams, cranberry sauce, pecan pie, pumpkin pie, and orange fluff. Below is the recipe for one of my favorites - broccoli cheese casserole.

Many families have different ways they spend time together. Some families watch the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade on television. Others watch football or golf on TV. My family always plays board games. One of our favorites is called Catch Phrase. You have to describe a word or phrase to your teammates without actually saying that word. It is fun and we always have a blast.

Ingredients:

Salt, pepper, and butter
1 cup (237mL) of mayonnaise
850g of frozen, chopped broccoli
8 ounces (235g) of sharp cheddar cheese
1 can (298g) of Cream of Mushroom Soup
OR 1 can (298g) of Cream of Chicken Soup
1 egg
1 sleeve of Ritz crackers

Instructions:

- 1) Preheat the oven to 175C (350F) and butter a 9x13 inch baking dish.
- 2) In a medium mixing bowl, whisk together the condensed soup, mayonnaise and egg.
- 3) Put the frozen broccoli into a very large mixing bowl. Break apart the broccoli.
- 4) Add the cheese and the soup mixture to the broccoli bowl. Mix well.
- 5) Spread the mixture into the baking dish. Add some salt and pepper.
- 6) Crush the Ritz crackers. Put them on top of the mixture in the baking dish.
- 7) Bake in the oven for 45 minutes to an hour. After 45 min., the broccoli will be a little crunchy.
After 1 hour, it will be softer.
